Mysuru Professor selected for Fellowship to work at NASA

Mysuru, May 22- Dr. Abhishek A. Pathak, Assistant Professor, Department of Civil Engineering, The National Institute of Engineering (NIE), Mysuru, has been selected for the prestigious 'SERB International Research Experience' Fellowship to work at Hydrological Science Laboratory, Goddard Space Flight Centre, NASA, USA.

Dr. Abhishek

This Fellowship is supported by Science and Engineering Research Board (SERB), Department of Science and Technology, Government of India.

Dr. Pathak got the Fellowship for duration of six months to work on development of soil moisture based drought frame work.

India has been facing many severe droughts which have caused drastic reduction in crop yield causing huge economic loss. Assessing agricultural drought in varied climate at finer resolution can still be trickier because of its multifaceted connection with groundwater, evapotranspiration and rainfall, etc.

To address this challenge, Dr. Pathak will work on synergetic assimilation of soil moisture and hydrometeorological variables to develop a comprehensive combined drought monitoring framework for India. The proposed research will also play a vital role in providing a base for various studies, which will be carried out with the upcoming NASA-ISRO SAR (NISAR) mission scheduled to be launched in 2023.

Dr. Pathak is also serving as the Coordinator for the 'Centre for Water Resources (CWR)' in the college. The CWR pioneered the establishment of Kumaradhara Field Hydrological Laboratory and experimental watersheds in the Western Ghats of India to monitor hydrometeorological variables with its sophisticated instruments and equipment.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Sadhana, intuitional practice, can be learnt from a sadhguru, great preceptor. And, emancipation can be obtained by its systematic practice. Nothing can be achieved by merely depending on the preceptor without doing sadhana. Everyone should carry out intuitional practice. Some people are under the wrong impression that they do not have to make an effort and that they will attain emancipation due to the grace of the preceptor.

To deserve the grace of the sadhguru, one has to follow the system of intuitional practice with devotion and faith, and not assume that the great preceptor will freely give everything without any effort on the part of the disciple. Some people think that since they are disciples of a great preceptor and the sadhguru has come to elevate the fallen, the preceptor will take them all along when leaving, in the same way as a cowherd gathers all grazing cattle before leaving the pasture at dusk. This way of thinking is not correct. The great preceptor comes to liberate people, to elevate them to divinity. People must make a sincere effort to carry out their intuitional practice.

The youngest turtle said he would go home and get it if they wouldn't eat the sandwiches until he got back. A week went by, then a month, finally a year, when the two turtles said, "oh, come on, let's eat the sandwiches." Mysuru City Railway Station exit point re-routed

Sir,

Kudos to the authorities concerned of Mysuru City Railway Station for mitigating the woes faced by the passengers as well as others who pick up and drop the passengers at Mysuru Railway Station by re-routing the exit point.

Whenever a train arrives at the platform, utter chaos is created at the entrance of the Railway Station, basically by the auto drivers who block the free access to the Railway Station. Now by blocking the exit and re-routing the exit point, entry and exit to the Railway Station is very smooth.

Farmer killed for not letting out farmland for mining

Nagamangala, May 22 (Mahesh &ACP)- In a diabolical act, a farmer was kidnapped and murdered by a miner for not letting out his farmland for mining activities in Nagamangala taluk. The deceased farmer has been identified as N.R. Mohan (31) of Naragalu village in the taluk.

Details

N.R. Mohan is said to have been kidnapped by a Tamil Nadu based miner and his associate, a former Gram Panchayat (GP) member when he went out to his farm for herding cattle on the afternoon on May 15. Subsequently his mother Vasanthamma went to the jurisdictional Bindiganavile Police Station to lodge a complaint the same night, when the Police did not respond. Later, Mohan's wife Yamuna went to the Police Station the next morning (May 16) to lodge a kidnapping complaint along with proof. But the Bindiganavile Police refused to accept her version and instead filed a missing case after getting the complaint altered by Yamuna.

As the Police utterly neglected her complaint, Yamuna, finding no other way, went to the SP's Office at Mandya along with her two children to lodge her complaint. Following directions from SP Yatish, the Bindiganavile Police registered a kidnapping case on the night of May 19 and began investigation by summoning the Tamilnadu based miner Raju to the Police Station.

During questioning, Raju confessed to have kidnapped Mohan on the evening of May 15 and murdered him the same night. Raju also spilled the beans on the whole act of kidnapping and murder, following which the Police went to Teralu in Holenarasipur taluk, where the accused had buried Mohan's body after killing him. Mohan's body was exhumed in the presence of Holenarasipur Tahsildar and sent the body for the conduct of post-mortem. Following unearthing of the murder, the Police arrested Raju, former GP member Kumar and JCB machine operator Sandeep, for helping the duo in committing the crime.

Raju had engaged himself in mining activities in the farmland of one Halagegowda alias Kumar at Naragalu village after taking the land on lease two years ago. Kumar's cousin Mohan's land was adjacent to Kumar's land and Raju used to pester Mohan for leasing out his land too. But Mohan refused to let out his land for mining saying that he would not allow his cultivable land for mining. Thereafter, Raju and Mohan's cousin Kumar developed hatred for Mohan and hatched a plot to kill him.

N.R. Mohan

Mohan left home on his motorcycle for his farmland on the afternoon of May 15 to bring cattle left for grazing back to his home. As it was cloudy, Mohan's wife Yamuna called her husband over phone a number of times to come back home early. But as her calls went unanswered, Yamuna went in search of her husband, when she found Mohan's motorcycle abandoned in front of Addihalli Milk Dairy. Suspecting something fishy, Mohan's mother went to Bindiganavile Police Station the same night to lodge a complaint, when the Police allegedly failed to respond to her. The next day, Yamuna went to the SP's Office at Mandya and lodged a complaint suspecting that Miner Raju and Kumar may have kidnapped her husband. Following directions from SP Yatish, the Police began investigation and cracked the mystery behind the missing of Mohan, with the arrest of Raju and his associate Kumar, who confessed to have kidnapped and murdered Mohan as he refused to let out his land for mining.

During interrogation, Raju is said to have told the Police that he kidnapped Mohan in his car when he (Mohan) had gone to his farm on the afternoon of May 15 and strangled him to death in his car itself. Later, he disposed off the body by burying it at a Gomaala land at Teralu village in Holenarasipur taluk the same night with the help of Sandeep, a JCB operator, who digged the ground for burying Mohan's body.

The investigation was carried out by Bindiganavile Police Sub-Inspector (PSI) Sridhar under the guidance of Nagamangala DySP Naveen Kumar and Circle Police Inspector (CPI) Sudhakar. The Police have continued investigation in the case to find out if there is any wider angle and also the involvement of others in the murder of Mohan.

SP sympathetic to Mohan's family

Mandya SP Yatish, who took immediate action after Mohan's wife Yamuna approached him with a complaint suspecting that her husband has been kidnapped by Raju and Kumar, had words of sympathy for the deceased Mohan's family members.

Meanwhile, even as Naragalu villagers are demanding that Bindiganavile Police Sub-Inspector Sridhar be suspended for being apathetic to the complaint given by Mohan's family members. Mandya Additional SP Venugopal was all praise for the Bindiganavile Police for having cracked the murder case. Venugopal told, 'Mysooru Mitra', the sister concern of 'SOM', that the police registered a case based on the complaint given by Mohan's family members. Following the complaint, the police have cracked the case in just one day, with the arrest of the accused based on primary investigation. The police have to be complimented for their swift action, he added.

Police fail to hear pleas of desperate complainants

Even as the Police have cracked the case, there are allegations that the jurisdictional Bindiganavile Police failed to hear the pleas of the deceased Mohan's mother and wife, who strongly suspected that Mohan may have been kidnapped by miner Raju and former GP member Kumar. Mohan's wife Yamuna and the villagers who went in search of Mohan after he failed to answer mobile phone calls, found Mohan's motorcycle parked in front of Addihalli Milk dairy. The villagers also went through the footages captured in the CCTV camera installed near the dairy, when it was seen that an unidentified man pushing away Mohan along with his bike and subsequently an unknown Maruti Van passing by, which gave to suspicions that Mohan had indeed been kidnapped. As such, Mohan's mother and wife, in their complaints, had suspected that Mohan may have been kidnapped by Raju.

Mohan's family members and villagers allege that the Police acted on the complaint, only after SP's direction. They argue that despite the CCTV footage evidence, the police displayed negligence and failed to act immediately for tracing Mohan.

Meanwhile, it is learnt that miner Raju, apart from having a grouse against Mohan for not letting out his farmland on lease to carry out mining activities, also had strong suspicions that Mohan was behind the recent raids on his mines that were carried out by Mining Department officials.

Renewed demand for Dubare hanging bridge

Panchayat delegation to meet Forest, Tourism Ministers; will explain tourist inconvenience

Tourists waiting in a long queue for a boat ride at Dubare, anxious to get to the Elephant Camp that is open for only a few hours a day.

Unable to get space in the boats, many tourists walk on slippery stones to cross River Cauvery risking their lives.

Kushalnagar, May 22 (Akshay & BCT)- There is a renewed demand for a hanging bridge for River Cauvery at Dubare Elephant Camp in Kodagu, one of the main tourist attractions. The sanctioned project has been shelved now. The Nanjarayapatna Gram Panchayat will push for the project and there are plans to meet Forest Minister Umesh Katti and Tourism Minister Anand Singh in the coming days.

The Panchayat is upset that its demand for hanging bridge has not been met despite funds being sanctioned twice and it has blamed the Forest Department for putting a spanner in the works, by citing procedural and permission issues.

River Cauvery flows in full force here and the two sides can only be accessed by motorised boats at present. The Panchayat President and members said that in the absence of a hanging bridge, tourists are risking their lives to cross from one side of the river to another.

While one side of the river bank is controlled by the Tourism Department, the other by the Forest Department that runs an elephant camp there. The suspension bridge was conceptualised to be 110 metres in length and 1.8-metre width and way back in 2015-2016, the Kodagu Tourism Department first sent the proposal at an estimated cost of Rs. 2.35 crore.

Two proposals not materialised

It was to have three columns — two at the sides and one in the middle — as it is 1.8 metres wide. Other hanging bridges usually have only two columns. The Tourism Department sanctioned Rs. 1 crore for the project and consulted Girish Bharadwaj, popularly known as the 'Bridgeman' of India.

But the Forest Department denied permission and objected to the bridge construction by a third party, Nanjarayapatna Panchayat President C.L. Vishwa told Star of Mysore this morning.

In the second proposal, the Tourism Department wrote to the Forest Department and said that funds can be sanctioned by the Tourism Department and Forest Department can take up construction as per their norms after getting clearances. Even this did not take shape. "The Forest Department is not obliging and the officers are citing rules and other procedural issues," he said.

Due to this bureaucratic back and forth, the Rs. 1 crore released was returned to the Government. "The Forest Department runs boat service from one side to other and there are only two mechanised boats that can accommodate only 15 but over 20 are accommodated without life jackets. Thousands of tourists miss seeing the elephants and the elephant camp that is only open from 8.30 am to 11.30 am. Only over 100 tourists can take the boats in over 10 to 12 trips," he said.

Tourists risk lives

Due to the heavy rush for boats, many tourists take the risk of walking across the river on slippery rocks. Many deaths and accidents have occurred due to this and the Forest Department has to take the blame, Vishwa added. "The Department's callousness is endangering the lives of people and without getting a chance to see the elephants, tourists refuse to pay the parking charges and this leads to fights," he said.

The Panchayat will write to the Taluk Executive Officer, Kodagu Deputy Commissioner and Zilla Panchayat CEO seeking immediate construction of a hanging bridge. "We will even meet the Forest and Tourism Minister and explain the inconvenience to the tourists and also the risks involved in the absence of a hanging bridge," he said.

Over a cup of evening Tea

By Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, MD

Lab Tests, by the Bucketful !

Having been a practicing physician for more than thirty five years or so, I was doing a reasonably comfortable job, having the sense to cut down on my work load as I went along my way and my hair went along its way, from black to grey and then to silver. Earlier, when I used to ask my patients to get the few lab tests necessary for me to make a diagnosis, they used to come back to me with their reports and go back home with their prescriptions.

But now, things are changing fast and since the past two years or so, I am being confronted by a new and very vexing problem. Many people who have not been advised any lab tests by me or even by any other doctor, come to my consulting room, holding fat bundles of lab reports with lines and lines of fat, fine and much finger print too and request me to read them!

You may not believe it but these reports very often contain the results of anywhere between eighty to a hundred and twenty tests. And more than ninety five percent of them are of tests which I or any other doctor would never need, any time in our working careers, to make any diagnosis. When I point this out to them, my patients and their attendants very proudly tell me that they got them done because the portal they were directed to by their Google searches or messages received on their mobiles had a special, limited time offer of giving them the benefit of a 'Complete Lab Profile' at a 'huge' discount.

While this hugely discounted price too goes into a couple of thousand rupees, they feel that for the sum they have paid for it, the bundle of papers in their hands is worth its weight in gold! They go on to tell me that after seeing the incredible offers and talking to telemarketing executives, they were convinced that it would be a very wise thing to get the benefit of a complete round of lab tests to reassure themselves that everything was in order with their bodies.

That is when I tell them that out of the nearly hundred or so tests that they have got done, they would have needed just ten tests to reassure themselves that everything is fine with their bodies, which is in fact the plain truth. This leaves them more than a little disappointed with the generosity of their lab and their own wisdom but by then it is too late.

The blood report and the blood money would have exchanged hands for good! The real truth behind these 'bundled tests' is that many of them are reports that are incidentally generated by the modern, computer assisted machines while doing many routine tests, which adds to the volume of the results.

Reporting these test results therefore does not cost anything extra to the lab and these results can in no way help any doctor to make a better diagnosis of any disease in any patient. No medical student in any medical college is ever taught about the significance or the interpretation of these tests, which may only be of use to a student doing some research in the respective field.

And, frankly speaking, when confronted by such voluminous reports, no doctor, however meticulous or conscientious, ever looks into anything beyond what he or she needs to give an opinion, let alone looking into the fine print that surrounds them. That is why no honest and hard-working doctors ever ask for them and most good hospitals and labs too never go beyond doing the tests asked for by the referring doctors.

Recommending tests like these through attractive looking offers, is a very clever ploy by some unscrupulous players who do not even own or operate labs. They are the third-party aggregators who put out ads or create mobile apps to lure gullible people into getting them done. They only have tie-ups with some non-descript labs and they operate without moving a finger or shifting themselves from their cushioned seats, let alone investing any money into their business ventures.

These days, setting up a good medical lab is a formidable job, requiring not just very expensive equipment and highly trained professionals but also very strict quality assurance credentials. Today, every business operates through a widespread network of agents and very often the agents who sell medical insurance are also the ones who are into this business as they can use their ready liaison with their customers to give them this seemingly value-added service.

Because most insurance companies, to attract customers in a highly competitive field, include some kind of a free annual health check-up, these bucket tests are gaining popularity with patients. This novel but notorious concept is exactly like the 'Bucket Biryani' package that comes with the complimentary kababs and soft drinks. The customers never believe that there can be nothing like a free lunch and so never realise that the cost of the very attractive accompaniments necessarily and invariably is included in the bucket itself!

Having been vexed with this new problem of peering over the rows and rows of figures in the bundled reports that patients started giving me, I decided to find a treatment for this malady too. I have now come up with a solution that has proved to be extremely effective in making my work easy. I had to resort to it only because this report-reading business was turning out to be a proof-reading job that was taking twice the time I would take to examine my patients and write my prescriptions for them.

Now, whenever patients hand me their packaged lab reports, I just turn them around and write the four or five tests which I would have ordered to make an assessment of their state of health and hand them back with a red pencil. I then request them to sit comfortably in my waiting room and find those tests and encircle them in red for my convenience, while I see other patients.

That is when they sit peering over their reports for a good half-an-hour, like earnest students preparing for an examination or friends working jointly on a cross-word puzzle and then come back to me, not just with the results I need but with some well-earned wisdom too!

Millet cultivation decline a cause of concern: Senior agro officer

Three-day TechBharat-2022 extended for one more day due to popular demand

Millet cultivation must be encouraged

Millets are the ideal crops to grow in our country which depend mainly on quality of soil, quantity of rainfall and weather. Other crops like rice, wheat which are grown in huge quantities for their lower cost of production may result in lower yields during times of natural disasters and diseases. But millets can be grown in all climates and their cultivation should be encouraged to meet the demands for food in the country.

— Ashok Dalvoy, Chief Executive Officer of National Rainfed Area Authority

Mysuru, May 22 (RK&TRR)- Dr. Ashok Dalvoy, CEO of National Rainfed Area Authority under the Union Ministry of Agriculture and Farmer Welfare, has expressed concern over the declining output of millet crops.

He was speaking at the third and concluding day of the third edition of a three-day conclave TechBharat-2022 at CSIR-Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI) in city yesterday. The event was organised by the IMS Foundation and Laghu Udyog Bharati - Karnataka Chapter in collaboration with CSIR-CFTRI. Though the conclave ended last evening, the exhibition part of more than 100 stalls was extended by a day due to the huge response it got from the public. The expo will conclude today evening.

Ashok Dalvoy was speaking at the session 'Food Technology: Employment Opportunities in the Processing of Millets' on the third day of the Tech Bharat .

Noting that millets used to be cultivated in large quantities in the southern States of India like Andhra Pradesh, Odisha, Telangana and Karnataka, he said that millets were earlier cultivated in an area of 35 million hectares of land. But it is now being grown in only 15 million hectares, he regretted. "Agriculture scientists and food processing resource persons should work towards encouraging farmers to grow millets which is widely regarded as a health supplement," he opined.

Stating that the millet industry has abundant opportunities in the agricultural sector as it can be used to manufacture many other foods which are consumed worldwide, he said that the millet industry also has the potential to create more employment opportunities and entrepreneurs should make use of this. "Agriculture scientists, technologists and researchers have the responsibility of disseminating information in this connection and encourage the entrepreneurs," he added. "Banks and financial institutions are providing loan facilities at low interest rates for those who produce value-added products from millets and the Union Government has also provided financial grants of Rs. 93,000 crore to the agricultural sector," he concluded.

Senior Scientists Dr. G.V. Saiprasad, Dr. N.G. Mallesh, Managing Director & CEO, Tata Consumer Soulfull, Prashant Parameshwaran, Assistant Professor & HoD - Agribusiness Management, Symbiosis Institute of International Business (SIIB) Pune, K.V. Shivaramakrishnan of Velavan Agro Trichy and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Hark back

Pronunciation: HAHRK-BAK.
Meaning: Hark back means "to turn back to an earlier topic or circumstance" or "to go back to something as an origin or source."
Origin: Hark, a very old word meaning "to listen," was used as a cry in hunting. The master of the hunt might cry "Hark! Forward!" or "Hark! Back!" The cries became set phrases, both as nouns and verbs. Thus, a "hark back" was a retracing of a route by dogs and hunters, and to "hark back" was to turn back along the path. From its use in hunting, the verb soon acquired its current figurative meanings. The variants hearken and harken (also very old words meaning "to listen") are also used, with and without back, as synonyms of hark back.
Example: "This can be a fun pastime that harks back to childhood.... Simply collect a range of leaves on a woodland walk, then place a piece of paper over them and rub a crayon across the page. The imprint of the leaf, with all its intricate veins, will show through, allowing you to appreciate all its details that might usually pass you by." — Rebecca Thair

THE ODD WORD

Hamartiology

Study of sin.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Hit the nail on the head

Meaning: The phrase 'Hit the Nail on the Head' refers to doing or saying something that is precisely right.
Origin: The origin of the idiom 'hit the nail on the head' is carpentry, although no one is certain when it was first used. This analogy is a wonderfully straightforward one; missing the nail when hammering is imprecise and can cause damage to the surface beneath the hammer. Hitting the nail on the head leads to the desired results.
Example: "You've spotted the flaw, Sally. You hit the nail on the head."

IPL-2022

RCB enters playoffs

New Delhi, May 22- Mumbai Indians did great help to the Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB) as their 5-wicket victory over Delhi Capitals (DC) helped RCB qualify as fourth-placed team for Indian Premier League (IPL) 2022 playoffs yesterday.

For the entire day, RCB voiced their support for the Paltans on social media and now after the match, Bangalore thanked the Rohit Sharma-led side for their hard-fought victory over the DC.

DC first made 159 for 7, a target which MI chased down with five balls to spare. Earlier sent into bat, DC were in a spot of bother at 50 for 4 before skipper Rishabh Pant (39) and Rovman Powell (43) joined hands and shared 75 runs for the fifth wicket to rescue the batting side. Jasprit Bumrah (3/25) picked up three wickets for MI.

RCB finished on 16 points in 14 matches.
